Allen Terrell

Director of Golf
&
Head Coach

In his tenth year at the helm, Head Coach Allen Terrell has built the Coastal Carolina men's golf program into one of the nation's elite programs through his ability to provide comprehensive coaching, both on and off the course, to his players. After inheriting a team ranked No. 224 in the country, the program finished the 2006-07 season ranked seventh in the nation and posted a fifth-place finish at the NCAA Championships, the highest team finish ever by a Big South Conference squad in any sport. Terrell earned 2007 Region Coach of the Years honor for that squad, adding to his already illustrious total of five Big South Coach of the Year awards. He has led his teams to seven of the top nine season scoring averages in the annuals of the program, including 2006-07's record-setting mark while playing the program's toughest-ever schedule that included the fifth-place NCAA finish.

Terrell has established himself as one of the top teaching instructors in the nation, providing the unique ability in college golf of working on the development of the individual player, including bio-mechanic and physiology assessment and golf-specific fitness training. Currently the Director of Instruction at TPC of Myrtle Beach, he also works with numerous professional players on the PGA, European PGA and Developmental tours. He currently coaches former Coastal Carolina All American and a 2 time winner on the PGA Tour Dustin Johnson and 4 time PGA Tour winner Steve Flesch. He was also mentioned as one of the top young instructors in the country by The Golf Channel.

Chris Wilson Associate Head Coach

Chris Wilson is in his second season as the associate head men's golf coach at Coastal Carolina University. Wilson helped the Chants to their sixth consecutive Big South Conference title and is instrumental in the running of the program, handling many of the day-to-day operations, helping run the General Hackler Championship and coordinates recruiting.

Wilson came to Coastal from the University of Louisiana-Monroe, where he spent four-and-a-half years as the head men's and women's golf coach. Combined, his Warhawk squads had three team tournament wins, 35 top-five team finishes, six individual medalists, 13 All-Conference selections and six Golf Coaches' Association of America and National Golf Coaches' Association All-America Scholars. He led the men's program to its highest national rankings in 2005 and 2006, earning Southland Coach of the Year honors in 2006. He also started the women's program in August 2005 and both squads were consistently among the top grade-point averages for athletic teams on the ULM campus. He also raised a majority of the funds for each of his programs, while also coordinating all aspects of each squad's practice and travel.
